

St. Pat's SPOTLIGHT

MARCH 9, 2017

Mrs. Bowser brought in a Metrocrops Jr. Rig and is growing purple sango radish sprouts in her classroom. The third graders were able to try the sprouts. They liked them. Angus thought they were a little "spicy" but overall good.

The Pre-K class is playing with rainbow rice and gold coins at the sensory table. They are getting ready for St. Patty's Day!

Cate Baroni, a fifth grader, is building a structure using only playing cards during a STEM class. She was able to cut and fold the cards but tape or fasteners were not allowed. It was definitely more difficult than they thought!

Mr. Bean stands with the students at the Basketball Banquet. This year we were able to hold the banquet at Community Campus. The elementary and middle school teams were attended the event and were recognized with awards.

The middle school students finished their PMAC winter term on Tuesday.
