

The Academy SPOTLIGHT

JANUARY 19TH, 2018

Joe has been saving up his "good behavior tickets" in the first grade to be the teacher of the morning. He administered a spelling test and led the class with Mrs. Hersey. Looking good, Joe!

John Hebert and Ted Alex from The Jeremy Alex Fund visited our 4th grade classroom yesterday for a chess presentation. They taught our 4th graders how to play chess and then gave each student their own chess set. The Jeremy Alex Fund was established to honor Jeremy Alex who died of a drug overdose. The fund promotes the message that good decisions yield good results. Thank you, Mr. Hebert and Mr. Alex!

Congratulations to 8th grader, JP, for being recognized for the Fully Alive Moment of the Week! JP volunteered to help with the door during morning drop off and assisted the Pre-K students with taking off their snow pants and boots.

The Service Credit Union Corporate Headquarters in Portsmouth hosted a beautiful art show in their lobby for Saint Patrick Academy. SPA's student art was displayed for the month of December. Below: Rebecca won 2nd place and Cate 3rd for the middle school age group. Both girls received a Barnes & Noble gift card.

The first grade has been studying different habitats in science such as: the desert, rain forest, ocean, and forest. Each student was asked to choose a habitat and to create a three dimensional display using art materials such as: shoe boxes, construction paper, popsicle sticks, pipe cleaners, etc. Above: Elieana holds her rain forest habitat and Maci shows the ocean habitat that she made.
